

The artworks of Isfahan

Isfahan, the capital city of the central province of Isfahan, is known for its stunning architecture, rich history, and its famous souvenirs. In this guide, we'll take you through the city's best keepsakes, from the delicious gaz to the exquisite malileh sazi.

When it comes to souvenirs, Isfahan has plenty of options to choose from. Whether you're looking for something to remember your trip by or a gift to bring back home, you're sure to find something that catches your eye. From traditional crafts to contemporary design, the city has it all. So without further ado, let's dive into Isfahan's famous souvenirs, surfiran.com wrote. Isfahan is a city that's rich in history, culture, and art. Its souvenirs reflect this, with each one representing a unique aspect of the city's heritage. Whether you're looking for a luxurious Isfahan carpet, a delicate piece of mina-kari, or a beautiful negar-gari painting, you're sure to find something that suits your taste. When you're shopping for souvenirs in Isfahan, it's important to keep in mind that many of these crafts require a high level of skill and precision. It's also important to support the local artisans who create these beautiful works of art by purchasing from reputable shops and markets. With a little patience and a keen eye, you're sure to find the perfect souvenir to remember your trip to Isfahan for years to come.

Gaz

shahkargaz.com

Gaz is a sweet that's been around for centuries in Iran. It's made of honey, pistachios, and rosewater and is a staple of Iranian cuisine. The gaz factories in Isfahan are among the oldest in the country and have been producing this sweet treat since 1935. If you're looking for something to satisfy your sweet tooth, gaz is the perfect souvenir to bring back home. You can find it in almost any shop in Isfahan.

Poolaki

Poolaki is another famous sweet from Isfahan. It's a hard candy made of sugar and baking soda, flavored with either saffron or rosewater. Poolaki is known for its unique texture, which is both crunchy and chewy at the same time. The candy is traditionally served with tea and is a popular gift from Isfahan.

blog.okcs.com

Sohan asali

sarashpazpation.com

Sohan asali is a brittle sweet that's made of saffron, almonds, and pistachios. The traditional sweet is popular during special occasions like weddings and holidays. The sweet is known for its delicate texture and unique flavor, which comes from the saffron. Sohan asali is a great souvenir to bring back home, as it's both delicious and authentic.

Joz-e qand

Joz-e qand is a traditional candy that's made of sugar and almond slivers. It's shaped into small bite-sized pieces and is a popular snack in Iran. Joz-e qand is often served with tea, and is a great way to satisfy your sweet tooth. If you're looking for a traditional Iranian souvenir, joz-e qand is a great option.

blog.rahbal.com

Mina-kari

borna.news

Mina-kari is a type of enamelwork that's been around for centuries in Iran. It involves painting intricate designs on metal objects, like vases and plates, using colored glass or enamel.

Mina-kari is a highly skilled craft, and the finished products are stunning works of art. If you're looking for a unique and beautiful souvenir, mina-kari is a great choice.

Khatam-kari

Khatam-kari is a type of marquetry which involves creating intricate patterns using different types of wood, bone, and brass. The pieces are then glued together to create a stunning design. Khatam-kari is a highly skilled craft that requires patience and precision. The finished products are beautiful and unique, making them a great souvenir to bring back home.

bazaremina.ir

Qalam-kari is a type of art that involves painting intricate designs on fabric, using a special type of pen. The pen is made of a reed or bamboo stick and is dipped into ink before being used to create the designs. Qalam-kari is a traditional art form that's been around for centuries in Iran. The finished products are stunning works of art that are highly prized by collectors. If you're looking for a unique and beautiful souvenir, qalam-kari is a great choice.

Qalam-kari

honarisfahan.com

Kashi-kari, also known as tiling, is a type of decorative tilework. It involves creating intricate designs on ceramic tiles using different colors of glaze. The tiles are then arranged to create a larger pattern, such as a wall mural or a fountain. Kashi-kari is a highly skilled craft that requires precision and patience. The finished products are stunning works of art. If you're looking for a unique and beautiful souvenir, kashi-kari is a great choice.

Kashi-kari

bazaremina.ir

Qollab-doozi is a type of embroidery that's been around for centuries in Iran. It involves using a special type of needle to create intricate designs on fabric. The designs are often inspired by nature and include flowers, leaves, and birds. Qollab-doozi is a highly skilled craft that requires patience and precision. If you're looking for a traditional Iranian souvenir, Qollab-doozi is a great option.

Qollab-doozi

bookala.ir

Malileh-sazi

Malileh-sazi is a type of inlaid work that involves creating intricate designs using different types of metal, such as silver, copper, and brass. The metal is then set into a wooden base to create a stunning design. Malileh-sazi is also a craft that requires precision and patience. The finished products are beautiful and unique, making them a great souvenir to bring back home.

bazaremina.ir

Isfahan carpets

mojnews.com

Isfahan carpets are known for their intricate designs and high-quality craftsmanship. They're made using traditional techniques that have been passed down for generations in Iran. Isfahan carpets are made from silk, wool, or a combination of both, and are often decorated with intricate floral patterns.

Negar-gari

Negar-gari, also known as miniature painting, is a type of art that's been around for centuries in Iran. It involves painting intricate designs on paper, using a special type of brush. The designs are often inspired by nature and include animals, plants, and landscapes. The finished products are stunning works of art that are highly prized by collectors.

cgie.org.ir